Additional Options & Accessories

POINTERS, BEZELS, LIGHTING, SENDERS & MORE.

Also included in this section is warranty information, detailed gauge dimensions, and the part number index.

Fuel-Link™

Fuel-Link solves fuel gauge issues by acting as an interface between short sweep fuel gauges and fuel senders. It corrects gauge and sender resistance mis match and dampens the pointer movement caused by fuel slosh. With Fuel-Link there is no need to drop the tank to swap fuel senders, simply connect it in line and use the on-board push button to calibrate the existing fuel sender to the existing fuel gauge. The unit is preset to work with eight common fuel sender ranges, or it can be custom calibrated. An optional low fuel light is available to warn when an 1/8 of a tank or less remains. The output signal is dampened electronically ensuring a steady pointer, even during movement due to an un-baffled tank or rough roads. Fuel-Link was inspired by our Zeus Speedometer Technology (ZST).

Compatible Fuel Sender Ranges

240–33 ohm .....	Standard After-market
0–90 ohm .....	GM Type '66 and later
0–30 ohm .....	GM Type '64 and earlier
16–158 ohm .....	Ford Type '87 and later

Fuel-Link was a 2015 Best Electrical Components & Accessories winner at the 18th Goodguys Nationals, Columbus, OH.

Measuring 3" x 2" x 1" the Fuel-Link™ unit is small enough to be easily mounted anywhere in your vehicle!

Design Options

Bezel Options

The bezel is the outer ring that holds the glass to the gauge cup and seals the gauge. Most standard gauges offer the option to specify a bezel depending on your personal preference. Bezels are available in Black Chrome Radial, Matte Black Low Step, Stainless Radial, Stainless Low Step, Stainless High Step, and Gold Low step. Black Chrome and Stainless Radial bezels only allow for the use of curved glass.

Glass Options

Standard production gauges use glass lenses that resist fogging and scratching. Curved or flat glass lenses are available. Please check part numbers relevant to each series to determine the type of glass used for each series. The last letter will be "F" indicating flat or "C" indicating curved. In most cases the glass style can be specified based on your personal preference. Radial bezels only allow for the use of curved glass.

Diffuser Options

The diffuser is a pressed metal trim ring within the gauge that is visible beneath the glass along the outer edge of the dial face. Most standard gauges offer the option to specify a diffuser color different from that of the gauge face. Standard color options include: Red, White, Black, Nickel, Gray, Tan, or Silver.

Pointer Options

Pointer style and color can be specified and changed for any standard production gauge. Style options include Teardrop, Crescent Moon, Pool Cue, Speedster, and Bomber in your choice of Black, Deep Red, Orange, Red, or White. Other colors are available by special order. All pointers may be ordered with a spun aluminum hub and some 2 inch pointers can be ordered without a tail.

Lighting Options

LED Illumination Upgrade

Standard gauges using incandescent illumination can be upgraded to use LED illumination with a bright white tone. Custom colored illumination is available through special order. This upgrade requires a special dimmer (part no. LEDDIM) for brightness adjustment. Dimmer sold separately.

LED Indicator Light Upgrade

LED indicator lights added to the face of your gauge can be a great way to get a retro look using modern technology. Colors include green, red, blue, and amber. You may specify color and placement within the gauge face.

Halo™ Indicator Light Upgrade

Halo lighting casts a soft glow across the gauge face in place of traditional indicator lights. They can be used to indicate various systems such as turn signals, high beam, brake, engine warning, and low fuel. Indicator location and Halo color to represent each system is based on personal choice. Specify all indicators in one instrument or place them throughout your set based on the dash layout.

The Sky Drive speedometer sending unit turns your electronic speedometer into a GPS controlled speedometer by allowing it to receive a signal from the Global Positioning System (GPS). GPS triangulation allows for accurate speed measurement, eliminates the need for calibration while driving, and allows for the use of a speedometer that measures speed in Miles Per Hour (MPH), Kilometers Per Hour (KPH), or Knots. The Sky Drive does not require an additional speed sensor from the transmission and the omnidirectional antenna allows for a variety of mounting locations. Additional programming at the time of order allows for compatibility with existing cruise control or speed controlled relay, and for the Sky Fence feature which allows the activation of any relay triggered device to deter vehicle theft. The Sky Drive allows for only one additional programming option.

SN16VW	The SN16VW includes a 48" flexible cable to accommodate Volkswagen and Porsche applications which use a front hub cable drive.

* Certain mid-50's Ford-O-Matic transmissions require a special adapter.

SN74Z Push Button Interface Module

- Three simple calibration methods
- Will work with most aftermarket electronic speedometers
- Small enough to be mounted anywhere inside your vehicle
- Filtered power source eliminates interference

SN74Z

The SN74Z is necessary when using a Classic Instruments speedometer with an Electronic Control Module (ECM) or Vehicle Speed Sensor (VSS) signal. The unit features in line installation between the transmission pulse signal or ECM speed output and your electronic speedometer.

It offers easy and accurate speedometer calibration with the push of a button and one of three calibration methods; use instant calibration at 30 mph, driving a measured mile, or real-time calibration. You choose!

Accessories

Description	Part No.	Overview
ECM Signal Filter	SN79	The SN79 is a filter for the speedometer sending unit designed to eliminate interference from the Electronic Control Module (ECM).
Mag Proximity Sensor	SN78SM	The SN78SM is a magnetic proximity sensor that will respond to pulse signals across a 1/16" gap. For use in applications without a mechanical speedometer cable connection. (For use only with 8 pulse speedometers or in conjunction with the SN74.)
6 Gauge Wiring Harness	SN84	The SN84 is a six gauge wiring harness for use with pre-packaged gauge sets. This package includes quick disconnect connections and labeled, color coded wires.
Steel Speedometer Bullet Housing	SN19	A steel upgrade to the original aluminum speedometer gear sleeves or "bullets" on GM transmissions. This upgrade will help ensure proper engagement with the gear and help prevent fluid leakage.

Sending Units & Accessories

Description	Part No.	Overview
Tank Adapter Flange	SN41	The SN41 is used to adapt 1936-56 Ford fuel tank openings to accept standard SAE five hole sending units by changing the original six hole pattern. The package includes an aluminum adapter plate and stainless countersunk Phillips head screws.
Fuel Tank Sending Units	SN35 SN36 SN38 SN39 SN40	Fuel tank sending units use the standard SAE five hole mounting pattern and are adjustable for tank depths of 6" to 24". The set includes float assembly, gasket, mounting screws, and instructions. The SN35 has a resistance range of 240-33 ohms The SN36 has a resistance range of 0-30 ohms The SN38 has a resistance range of 0-90 ohms The SN39 has a resistance range of 75-10 ohms The SN40 has a resistance range of 10-180 ohms
Deluxe Fuel Tank Sending Units	SN33	The SN33 Deluxe Fuel Sending Unit features a 240-33 ohm heavy duty resistance movement that ensures accuracy, reliability, and longevity regardless of vibration. The sender housing rotates 360 degrees to ensure float clearance of tank sidewalls, internal baffles, and other obstructions. The stainless steel mounting plate uses a 3/4" OD x 13" pick up tube which may be shortened to match your tank depth. Not for use in foam filled cell applications.
Tube Style Fuel Sending Units	SN35T SN36T SN38T SN39T SN40T	The Tube Style Fuel Sending Units are ideal for applications where conventional swing arm senders will not fit due to clearance issues. They are also less susceptible to cause erratic readings due to fuel slosh in a tank where baffles are not present. Units are available for tank depths of 6-36" in one inch increments and various ohm ranges, see below. The length of the sender tube is specific to tank depth and requires at least a 1/4" clearance between the bottom of the tube and the bottom of the tank. Each unit uses a standard SAE five hole mounting flange and comes with the necessary gasket and installation hardware. The SN35T has a resistance range of 240-33 ohms and is available in both 6-12" and 13-36" lengths The SN36T has a resistance range of 0-30 ohms and is available in both 6-12" and 13-36" lengths The SN38T has a resistance range of 0-90 ohms and is available in both 6-12" and 13-36" lengths The SN39T has a resistance range of 75-10 ohms and is available in both 6-12" and 13-36" lengths The SN40T has a resistance range of 10-180 ohms and is available in both 6-12" and 13-36" lengths

Involvement & History

Community & Industry Involvement

Classic Instruments is a proud sponsor of community events and local charitable organizations to include:

- Charlevoix Community Foundation
- The Women's Resource Center of Northern Michigan
- Charlevoix County Humane Society
- Boyne City Police & Fire Departments

We also believe in the values instilled by participating in athletic competition. It is our pleasure to be a sponsor in multiple Jr. Dragster competitions and to individually sponsor track champion Hunter "Ace" Acha. Additionally, we enjoy sponsoring a local Major League Softball team and supporting the annual Boyne City soap box derby.

Our open house also raises money each year for a different local organization.

Within the industry we enjoy sponsoring the Goodguys Trophy Dash award and the NSRA Pro's Pick award each year.

Since its inception in 1977, Classic Instruments has a history of involvement with the groups and associations that helped form the industry we are so proud to be a part of...

Performance Bezel

Classic Instruments' Performance Bezel has a taller, contoured profile designed with racing in mind.

Available on all 2 1/2" gauges only.

Matte Black

Brushed Aluminum

Bezel Options

The bezel is the outer ring that holds the glass to the gauge cup and seals the gauge. Bezels for our 2 1/4" gauges are available in Black Chrome Radial (A), Matte Black Low Step (B), Stainless Radial (C), Stainless Low Step (D), Stainless High Step (E).

Our 2 5/8" gauges are available with Matte Black Low Step (G), Matte Black Performance (H), Brushed Aluminum Performance (I), Stainless Low Step (J), or Stainless Radial (K) bezels. All Radial bezels only allow for the use of curved glass.

Glass Options

Standard production gauges use glass lenses that resist fogging and scratching. Curved (A) or flat (B) glass lenses are available. In most cases the glass style can be specified based on your personal preference with the exception of all Radial bezels which only allow for the use of curved glass.

Diffuser Options

The diffuser is a pressed metal trim ring within the gauge that is visible beneath the glass along the outer edge of the dial face. Most standard gauges offer the option to specify a diffuser color different from that of the gauge face. Standard color options include: Red (A), White (B), Black (C), Nickel (D), Gray (E), Tan (F), or Silver (G).

Light Intensifier Ring

To improve visibility and allow the gauge face to be as large as possible, our new 2 5/8" gauges do not have a diffuser. Instead each gauge has a light intensifier ring to evenly disperse and intensify the internal lighting provided by the gauge.

Pointer Options

Pointer style and color can be specified and changed for any standard production gauge. Style and color options are outlined below. Other colors are available by special order. All pointers may be ordered with a spun aluminum hub.

Temperature Sending Units

All Classic Instruments' temperature gauges require a Classic Instruments supplied sending unit for correct and reliable operation. All senders are equipped with self sealing, tapered threads, and are available in 1/8", 1/4", 3/8", 1/2" NPT and 12mm to fit most stock and after-market intake manifolds. Our outside air temperature gauges and low temperature gauges come with a stainless steel temperature probe.

Oil Pressure Sending Units & Pressure Transducer

The oil pressure sending units supplied by Classic Instruments provide accurate pointer movement in adverse conditions such as heat, vibration, and acceleration. Anodized steel construction uses 1/8" NPT threads. Standard ohm range, 240-33, is available in 0-100 psi and 0-80 psi ranges. Also available is a Ford (A) oil pressure sending unit bushing kit for converting a 1/8" NPT sender outlet to a 1/4" NPT sender outlet and a GM (B) bushing kit which may be necessary for installation of an oil pressure sending unit on some GM engines.
