Innovative Bushings

One of the most common questions is: “What stiffness bushing should I use?”

The answer is “It depends on how you use the car.”

All engine mount systems are a compromise between controlling the engine movement and isolating NVH (Noise, Vibration and Harshness as felt by the driver/passenger). Softer bushings will do a better job at minimizing NVH at the expense of allowing more engine movement and compromising performance. Conversely, a harder bushing will minimize engine movement, maximize performance but increase the NVH. Ultimately the right bushing is the one that provides the best balance for how you intend on using the car. We offer a wide variety of choices so that you can find a solution that best meets the intended use.

60A (Red* Urethane) – This is our softest bushing. Primarily intended for OEM/stock engines, daily commuting and non-aggressive driving. Available as a standard option for all our mount kits

75A (Black* Urethane) – Designed for street and occasional track use. Still a daily driver, but want the increased performance and control that performance bushing offers. Depending on the individual tuning of your drivetrain, may notice a slight to mild increase in NVH over a stock/OEM mount. Good up to 500 HP. Available as a standard option for all our mount kits.

85A (Grey* Urethane) – A more aggressive bushing for Race and fully built engines. Designed for maximizing performance and minimizing engine movement. Will notice significant an increase in NVH over stock. Best suited for engines ranging from 500-1000 HP.

95A (Dark Red* Urethane) – Designed for extreme race and maximum horsepower and where NVH is not a consideration. These bushings are capable of handling 1,000+ HP.

Solid Bushings – For ultimate control and performance we offer solid bushings as an option for our Billet Mounts.

Innovative Engine Mount Kits

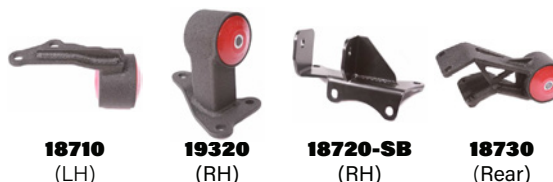

Our engine mounts are produced from high-quality materials and are built to withstand the added stresses of performance applications. Available in high-strength powder coated steel or lightweight billet aluminum we offer many options for tons of applications. Add a touch of personality by taking advantage of our custom anodizing options available on all billet parts. From street car bushings to full solid race car mounts, all products are backed by our industry-leading lifetime warranty!

Innovative Traction Bars

Our competition and traction bar kits were designed to increase the rigidity and stability of a vehicle's front suspension. Connecting the lower control arms to the chassis reduces that unwanted movement which can increase traction. Special spherical joints allow for the necessary movement without the unwanted slack caused by factory rubber bushings. Great for street cars and suitable racing, these kits can make the difference by helping you put the power to the ground. These products are manufactured with the highest precision and finished in high quality power coat for durability and corrosion resistance. They are also backed by our industry-leading lifetime warranty!
