

STILLEN 2009-11 + 2012-15 Nissan GT-R [R35] Urethane Skid Plates Now Available!

We gave you the heads up earlier this month that we were in development of the STILLEN 2012-15 Urethane Protective Skid Plate for the new 2012 DBA-R35 GT-R's (we already offer a [STILLEN Urethane Protective Skid Plate for 2009-11 Nissan GT-R \[R35\]](#)), and we're proud to announce that these have been completed and are now shipping!

PROTECTS AGAINST SCUFFS & SCRATCHES

STILLEN

It's every GT-R owners worst nightmare, scraping the front bumper on anything from driveways, dips, speedbumps, and pulling into that parking spot with the raised curb and making contact.

This piece is specifically molded to the GT-R's front bumper, and installs with 3M automotive acrylic foam tape and self-tapping screws to the underside.

STILLEN has developed a urethane Skid Plate which protects the OEM fascia and paint from scrapes and light bumps. Durable urethane construction ensures no cracking, and doesn't require painting, although can be color matched if desired.

As with all STILLLEN urethane body components, these are proudly designed and made in the USA at our Costa Mesa, California facility.
